About us

WorldView Int. is a network of hundreds of organizations around the globe. Our goal is to serve as a connection point between people who want to undertake volunteer service abroad and the organizations in need of volunteers to fulfill their mission.

WorldView understands that all involved parties have high expectations which can only be met by implementing high quality standards in the whole process. This starts by identifying the “right” volunteers to match the needs of the organizations.

The organizations need volunteers who have a clear understanding of the expectations and requirements that they are expected to fulfill. This involves a comprehensible understanding of their duties including job description, working hours and working conditions.

We understand that organizations not only have an urgent need for volunteers, but also have limited financial resources. Providing housing, food, transportation and care for a volunteer leads to additional expenses, which creates an undesirable additional burden for organizations.

To avoid extra costs for organizations, our volunteers are willing to pay a reasonable fee to cover the costs incurred by their volunteering. In return, our volunteers expect the organizations to provide adequate housing, food, care and orientation. Especially on the first days after arriving abroad, our volunteers rely on a good care and orientation program from their host organizations.

To ensure that all expectations are met, the volunteers as well as the organizations agree to fulfill our required quality standards. These standards are defined in our quality manual, which needs to be acknowledged and followed by all participating parties.

In this way we avoid unmet expectations and ensure that all parties involved benefit from our volunteer program.

Volunteers

You need some helping hands to get the job done?

Our volunteers can help you to achieve your goal! Whether you need a helping hand for your school or children's home, construction project or environmental preservation project, we find the right volunteer for you.

Our volunteers work full-time in your project and help you to achieve your goal. Most of our volunteers serve between one and six months, which gives them enough time to adjust to your project and get a good understanding of their duties.

Our volunteers invest a lot of time, money and effort to serve abroad, which shows their high motivation and commitment to your project.

Fundraisers

Most of our volunteers have a high-level educational background and are highly motivated to use their knowledge and contacts for the advantage of your organization. This engagement does not only apply during their volunteer term; our experience shows that most of the volunteers keep an interest and emotional connection to the project they served once they return back home.

In this way, the former volunteers keep sharing their experience abroad and your organization and raise funds for "their" project from their social network.

We assist the former volunteers in their fundraising activities by providing know-how, flyers, information material and support. We issue tax deductible donation receipts for the donors and direct the collected funds to our partner organizations.

For Free

Participating in our volunteer program will cost you nothing. Our volunteers cover the costs of their volunteer assignment themselves. You will receive a monthly payment to cover your expenses for the volunteers like food, housing and transportation. The only thing you need to do is to arrange their accommodation, mentor them during their service and make their service count for your organization.

When we ask our volunteers about their main expectation of their volunteer service, they frequently answer that they want to be useful for their project and make a difference...

How it works

- ✎ First, you join our network by registering your organization and available volunteer positions. After reviewing your information, we will publish your volunteer positions in our database.
- ✎ We will then publish your positions through our different websites and networks. Our recruiters are always visiting schools, universities and exhibitions in Europe promoting our network to ensure we find the right volunteer for you.
- ✎ After we have identified a volunteer which matches your requirements and expectations, we will send you his/her application details (e.g. curriculum vitae, motivation statement etc).
- ✎ If you accept the volunteer application we will arrange a volunteer agreement between you and the volunteer. All parties agree to operate according to our easy-to-follow quality standards defined in our quality manual.
- ✎ Then we will take care of the volunteer and help them with their preparations for the volunteer service abroad.
- ✎ Finally you pick up the volunteer from your local airport.
- ✎ The volunteer pays the agreed amount directly to you after his arrival.
- ✎ After the volunteer finished his assignment, we support him with his fundraising activities and direct the donations to your organization.

How to join our network

To join our network, your organization must meet the following criteria:

- ✎ Nonprofit, charitable organization
- ✎ In operation for at least five years
- ✎ Experience with international volunteers for at least two years
- ✎ Recommendations of at least two advocates (can be former int. volunteers or other organizations)
- ✎ Commitment to implement our quality standard defined in our quality manual

If you fulfill all these criteria, you can join our network and register as a partner organization.

Registration process:

- ✎ Fill out the application form on our website and submit it for approval
- ✎ After reviewing your information we will send you your login information
- ✎ Log in to our website and register your available volunteer positions

After registering your volunteer positions we will publish them in our database. The positions will then be open for volunteer applications.
